What were the Fund costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Fund name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
iShares 7-10 Year Treasury Bond ETF	$15	0.15%

How did the Fund perform last year?

- For the reporting period ended February 28, 2025, the Fund returned 4.98%.
- For the same period, the ICE BofA US Broad Market Index returned 5.84% and the ICE® U.S. Treasury 7-10 Year Bond Index returned 5.11%.

What contributed to performance?

Fixed income prices gained amid a generally positive economic backdrop, although the end of the reporting period saw increased volatility due to the presidential election and the economic implications of the new administration's policies. Slowing inflationary trends led the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank to lower the federal funds rate three times during the reporting period. However, the central bank hit pause at its January meeting, stating it needed to see further progress on inflation before cutting rates any further. The yield curve (the difference between a shorter-term bond and a longer-term bond, most often gauged by the two-year Treasury note and the 10-year Treasury note) normalized during the period as yields on longer-term bonds moved higher. (Bond yields move inversely to prices.) In this environment, shorter-term Treasuries outperformed their longer-dated counterparts.

What detracted from performance?

There were no meaningful detractors from the Fund's performance during the reporting period.
